Downloading some great mixtapes by Johnathan Beal

Article published on May 12th 2012 | Music

As the name suggests mixtapes are a compilation of songs that is put together on a medium â€“ either physical or virtual. A mixtape is often a reflection of the attitude and music choice of the compiler. There is always a concept to the selection of the songs range from oneâ€™s favorites, a particular emotion, the best of a singer or band and more. There are several compilers who believe that a statement of sorts can be made with a mixtape.

Ever since music went online, there have been a number of sites that offer mixtapes for a price. These sites also allow you to upload your own mixtapes thus creating an avenue of business for those interested in music. It also serves as a means of promoting oneâ€™s music through the online medium. You could also earn yourself a name as a virtual DJ if you have the skills to mix and match music and create a set that is well accepted.

With most mixtapes sites you can create your own profile one and then have that linked to a number of social media sites thus opening up avenues of publicity. In order to upload a mixtape most sites require that you have a cover as well as a track listing. Without this it can be hard for your mixtape to get online. If you are looking to download free mixtapes, there are several sites that will allow you to do so. Tapes are categorized based on several themes and you will have to go to the theme of your choice.

Once you have made your selection, all you will need to do is right click on the icon and chose to save it on your computer or any other medium compatible. You will then need to drag the torrent into the transfer window and it will be downloaded to where you need it.

For most sites the only requirement is that you sign up for the service. You will also have to go on the basis of recommendations on some good sites for you to use. This can be from friends and family who may have used similar services. You will also want to go on the basis of sites that have their offerings updated regularly. You can sign up for newsletters to be kept in the loop on what is happening on the music scene and giving you an immediate chance to download them.
