Essential music services: Saxophone hire by Mary Porter

Article published on June 18th 2012 | Music

Saxophone hire â€“ along with the temporary acquisition of all other instruments â€“ is something which happens on a regular basis in the music industry. Along with the likes of keyboard hire it can save for day for a band in trouble or make life a bit more convenient for a jobbing musician.

Put simply, Saxophone hire is the short term rental of the well known woodwind instrument. It is an alternative to buying one outright and is much more sensible for those preparing for a one-off or a handful of live or studio performances.

Saxophone hire is something that is invested in by musicians who play music of a variety of genres. The saxophone is a versatile instrument which has crossed the boundaries of jazz and funk into mainstream music. Indeed ask any experienced music industry professional to name a saxophone-driven pop song and chances are that they can name a few. Scottish singer Gerry Raffertyâ€™s 1978 hit â€˜Baker Streetâ€™ is one example, with other artists using the â€˜saxâ€™ as part of their arrangements then like Tears for Fears and George Michael. Saxophone hire is invested in by professional and amateur performers alike. It is often used as a means of backup for touring musicians when their own instrument gets lost in transit or is broken. Saxophone hire is equally popular among people covering songs in cabaret acts such as wedding and corporate function bands to those writing and performing original material.

Where can I find a reputable and reliable provider of saxophone hire?

The majority of music shops worth their salt sell saxophones but not as many offer a saxophone hire service. Indeed it is likely that if you are looking for a short term loan of an instrument that you will have to ask around to find the right firm which can help you out.

One online music shop which offers a saxophone hire service can be found at the website Abcmusic.co.uk. The company also provides keyboard hire so get in touch today if you are a musician in need of a short or long term hire option.
