So you are looking forward to a great time at the beach or by the poolside at your favorite holiday resort but you are wondering if your aging swimwear will hold up to the fun you are anticipating. Well, it may be time to get another one, but how about taking things a notch higher this time round?

The market now has a great selection of high end swimsuits from different designer houses, and you can obtain a great bikini or one-piece that will boost your confidence while giving you freedom to enjoy your time at the beach or pool. Some of the trusted brands for high end swimwear include L Space, Tori Praver, Melissa Odabash, Matthew Williamson, and OndandeMar, among several others. This article focuses on the first three of these designer brands, all which of have become the buzz of the bath suit arena.

Melissa Odabash swimwear is no stranger to the world of high end swimsuits This brand is mostly recognized for bikini tops that feature fine-twisted elastic discreetly sewn into the lining instead of the regular padding or underwire. Variety is the other name of this brand thanks to an impressive collection that includes twisted bandeaus, halter neck tops and flattering briefs in many distinctive themes such as Florida, Evita, Portugal, Sydney, Paris and Topaz, among many others. Melissa Odabash has an impressive 2012 collection that women of all ages will find impressive.

Enter the Tori Praver bikini collection and discover a world of swimsuits that in every way capture the pleasures of Florida beaches. With swimwear featuring eye-catchy neon, native and fringe prints for the 2012 collection, you can never go wrong with Tori Praverâ€™s variety of high end swimsuits. Go online and search for Tori Praver Dusty, Hoku, Malia, Raven and Shyla swimsuit editions and you will discover fabulous bikini options which are available in fantastic colors such as fanta, nirvana neon, neon native and watermelon. Tori Praver, herself one of most beautiful swimsuit models, knows plenty about what she wants in a bikini (just like the retired Melissa Odabash) and this is what she shares with you in her outstanding collection.

A veteran of the swimsuit industry and with many accolades and awards to show for it, L Space fringe suits has always been the brand to beat. Talk about cutting-edge and sleek high end swimsuits that celebrate a womanâ€™s figure, L Space is widely known for trend setting fringe suits that have become the staple of a broad range of fans and even celebrities. In this brand you will find great swimsuits in an array of styles and colors that complement different skin tones and body shapes.

These three brands represent high end swimsuits that have attracted great patronage from celebrities and regular people alike and they are all affordably available online.
