Article Side

Creating Your Own Private Drawer Liners by Carina Coronel

Article published on March 5th 2012 | Others

When you need to keep anything you are housing in the drawer clean you can try a drawer liner to reach that goal. You will find several products that we may need or want to stay clean whether it's home items in the kitchen or perhaps clothes inside our dresser drawers. For anyone who is out to purchase these kind of drawer liners you will discover immediately that they are more expensive than you may think and you may not regularly be able to get the odor you like in your search. You have to find the best blend of a cost that works for you along with the value coinciding the scent you love. The probability of this happening are not very good to be honest. This is why more and more people today make their own drawer liners from the comforts of their own homes. Achieving this allows you to wipe out a lot the charges regarding them and in addition helps you to put your own private style inside them being that you are basically decorating them. There are a few important procedures that should be implemented to create your personal drawer liners. Once you accomplish the procedure you will no longer worry about any kind of bugs or pests making their way inside the drawers of your home.

First and foremost, you are going to need to calculate the drawer in places you would like to set up the liners. Once you have that measured you will then cut your liners to the perfect size to fit into your drawers required. Always precise with your dimensions as it will save you a lot of time.

Second, take some spray bottle and fill it with water. When this is done, have a tea bag and dip it inside the spray bottle full of water for as much as 2-3 minutes. As soon as the 2-3 minutes go by carefully remove the tea bag in the water.

At this moment, this is to get a bit more creative. Take an oil that is good to you and then put 2-3 drops of it and hang them inside your bottle of spray. Be sure that the fragrant oil you use is not too strong in nature because keep in mind you will be smelling it each and every day.

When it is done take some time to thoroughly mix the contents that are in the bottle of spray. This is an easy part of the procedure, but it is essential that it is done correctly.

Now, take your trusty bottle of spray and apply the mixture inside it to each piece of paper that you have previously cut out. This paper is eventually what will become your drawer liner. After you apply the mixture allow the drawer liners time to dry.

From then on, remove the drawer liners and insert them in the drawers you wish to protect. Now that wasn't that hard was it? The good thing is that this way of making drawer liners set you back little or no money and heck you may have even had fun doing it!

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/others-articles/creating-your-own-private-drawer-liners.htm - Article Side

Carina Coronel - About Author:
Heathcote Ivory stock a range of luxury products available to browse and purchase online, including a range of a drawer liners.

Article Keywords:
drawer liners, Bath gifts, hand cream, luxury products

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!