Share Pictures Instantly - Free Photo Sharing Websites by Phantomd

Article published on May 22nd 2012 | Photography

There are many free photo sharing websites one can come across. It takes time sometimes to review all the pictures available online that are kept public, but not in the case of photo sharing sites because these sites are user friendly and anyone can understand easily. Many sites will cost you if you want to share pictures, but there are many free photo sharing websites. It is very easy to access, you just need to drag and drop your pictures. You can also organize the pictures according to the priority, edit them online and then share pictures instantly.

You can upload each photo of size 20 MB max, which is very much difficult to find in any paid photo sharing website. Even when you download the size of the picture will vary only a bit, but does not have a large variation. Moreover it is very robust, pictures can be searched fast, tagging can be done perfectly and sharing pictures instantly can be done with a comparatively low bandwidth.

It is very simple to create your own account with your desired username and password. Once you have created log into it. You will see the welcome screen. You can create different albums to store different pictures accordingly. To upload the pictures you can browse the pictures you want and select the pictures and upload them. If there are multiple pictures, you can select the multiple upload option and upload all the pictures at once. You can also invite your friends to join this successful community to share pictures instantly. When you upload the pictures you just need to make sure that each picture does not exceed 20 MB, if that happens the process may stop informing you that the size has been exceeded and it be aborted. You need to start all over again.

For sharing pictures instantly with your friends, you need to invite them first. You can also share with them through an e-mail or by sending them the link. Privacy is highly maintained here, you can share only those pictures you want and protect the rest by either keeping them in privacy or locking them. Once you send your friend the invitation to view the picture, he will have to accept it to view them he can only view those pictures that you have given access to but not the rest. This is how these websites help to share pictures instantly with your loved ones whom you don't want to miss any of the fun you having.
