Saving Money Essential and Do It with Discount Realtor by Jim Soun

Article published on June 6th 2012 | Real Estate

In today's economy every dollar saved is a big deal. Many families are doing everything they can to save money. If you are looking to sell your house it should be no different. Who wants to throw large amounts of money away to someone that is not even needed? It is hard earned money that can go to other useful needs. Why throw away unneeded commission fees when you can sell your house using for sale by owner - discount relator?

For Sale by Owner allows you to sell your home without worrying about those unwanted large commission fees. You still get access to all the great benefits to help sell your home as for sale by owner including getting your home in MLS listing. Post details and pictures of your for sale by owner home in MLS listing without the need for an expensive middleman. Open houses are available through For Sale By Owner - Discount Realtor as well as pamphlets and anything else an expensive realtor can provide you with. You can sell your home with through yourself and feel great about all the money you are saving. So what's not to like about selling your home yourself? If you have the time and commitment, real estate listing as for sale by owner definitely the go to option for any home seller.

You may say that using a normal realtor is so much easier and hassle free, but have you really considered the costs? If you sell your home for $200,000 and owe 7% in commission fees you are throwing away $14,000 you could have been pocketing. That is $14,000 that can be used as a down payment towards a new home, used to pay off debt, or used to treat yourself to something nice you deserve. The realtor is stealing your money and you barely know it because they get paid at closing and get the check from somewhere else. Make no mistake though they are robbing you of your hard earned money. A realtor provides you with an open house, can help you set a price, and show your home, all things that are easy to do and can be done for much less than the large commission you end up paying for it. By listing your real estate listing in MLS selling your for sale by owner home yourself you get the same great benefits and save loads of money.

For Sale By Owner allows you to sell your home hassle free and commission free. No more middle man telling you everything you already know and then looking to get paid with your money for it. You can list your real estate listing as for sale by owner to sell your home the way you want it to be sold. In today's economy everyone needs to save money and this way of discount realtor can help you do so. Donâ€™t waste time or money, if you need to sell your home contact consider selling it without a realtor!

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/real-estate-articles/saving-money-essential-and-do-it-with-discount-realtor.htm - Article Side

Jim Soun - About Author:
Jim Soun is a shrewd consumer who writes about personal finance and real estate topics like: a For sale by owner, Real Estate Listing, Discount realtor, a MLS Listing .

Article Keywords:

For sale by owner, Real Estate Listing, MLS Listing, Discount Realtor

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!