Soon to Be Introduced by KMC - Faster Building Plan Clearance by Vinay Jain

Article published on June 14th 2012 | Real Estate

It may take solely every week to sanction building plans for middle-class homes, of Kolkata Municipal Corporation has its means. When being pulled up by the chief minister over pending applications, the municipal group is attending to introduce one window system for set up clearance of small residential units.

While a web system for tracking the standing of building plans is already in place, submission of applications can soon become a web method once the set up is duly signed by a certified architect.

The online sanction of building plans is greatly desirous project for the KMC building department. Initially, we tend to begin this theme for small residential property in Kolkata. Sanctioning of plans for the high rises may be a sophisticated matter and will take time. However, before introducing the online system, KMC can currently enable the candidates to go through the precise standing of their building plans online. Mayor Sovan Chatterjee has appointed Mr. Anindya Karforma, KMCâ€™s chief architect and city planner, as being the new director general to hurry up sanction of building plans. Mr. Karforma took charges on 2nd March and convened a gathering of all executive engineers the next day and directed them to clear all applications for set up sanctions in case of small property in Kolkata.

We have been asked to expedite the method of clearing files for small residential property in Kolkata. As a attainable answer to the present downside, the owner of the land should return to the KMC building department and pursue the case. Otherwise, the sanction can be delayed since registered architects seldom approach us to resolve the matter. We have a tendency to have some changes within the set up that the architects have to be pass to the owner. This is often not all. The civic authorities are about to open one window system for sanctioning plans for middle-class homes.

As we have a tendency to introduce one window system for those that approach us for sanctioning plans for small residential property in Kolkata. If the candidates will turn out clean papers about land deed and a proper building set up duly signed by an architect registered with KMC, we have a tendency to might take per week to sanction the application in order that construction will begin directly without any delay.

Sources within the KMC building department said many applications for building plan sanctions were lying with it for the last few years. The member, mayor-in-council, admitted that files were piling up. We've to alleviate voters from such harassment. Senior civic officers have motivated to clear these files at regular intervals.

Land values in Kolkata have seen a rise in rising areas like New Town and Salt Lake. Market sources realized that the new government can start up with policies that may improve the infrastructure and provide growth to the real estate trade within the town.

The Chairperson of Rungta cluster realized that costs of property in Kolkata are a lot and less stable as the values of residential plot and flats have increased substantially. This has not been mirrored within the worth of residences and feel that within the returning few years, the values of residences can see a sturdy growth.

Local realtor, realized that the costs in areas like Central Kolkata and outer localities like New Town, Salt Lake may need witnessed a rise of twenty five to thirty percent in 2011 compared to 2010.

The land costs are high as a result of most of the individuals purchasing for plots here are investors. Indeed each plots and commercial space are seeing an increase in costs however costs of residences stay equivalent because the market is slightly down. People who are investing here are from the middle-class, with a budget of Rs twenty five to thirty lakh. The investors who are trying to purchase for plots are either native families or migrants who have relocated due to their jobs.

Another space where investor interest has been observed for plots is Joka where the foremost profit has been the planned metro connectivity. The new government has not nevertheless formulated the policies on urban development. Developers believes that Mamata Banerjee government can start up with policies that may incentivise the expansion to the real estate sector.
