With its unique mix of scintillating nightlife and spectacular beaches, the Spanish Marina Barcelona deserves to be counted amongst the top tourist haunts in the world. Around ninety percent of people visiting Spain make it a point to have a stopover in this magnificent place. In fact, your Spanish holiday can never be considered truly complete if it does not include a short trip to Barcelona. The marina is best-experienced in-group or with family and friends. Hence, if you are planning to visit the historic city in near future, make sure that you know enough of the accommodation choices available here. From five star facilities to cheap youth hostels, the city has something for everyone. Therefore, it would always be advisable to choose your group accommodation barcelona depending on the kind of budget you have. For optimum results, you should choose a place close to the cityâ€™s heart.

As pointed out already, when it comes to finding group accommodation Barcelona, name one option and the city will provide you with it all. While certain places are meant to serve as large group accommodation other are plush dens that may not allow comfort for more than three people.

For budget tourists the best option is to avail the youth hostels dotting the city. Equipped with a range of modern facilities, these hostels have provisions for dormitories as well as private rooms. As an added bonus, you also get to enjoy excellent kitchen and relaxation facilities. If you were game for all things luxury, then serviced apartments, in our opinion, would match your criteria best.
