Whether you are a male or female kissing is one of the strongest of emotions, and learning the tricks is not really a big deal. There is almost no place where you will not see kissers; in parks, trains, homes and even in work places as I discovered the other day when I tuned my television to one of the romantic channels that came along with my order for a Verizon FiOS Deals. The actors and actresses, in the show doubtless are well paid to kiss and that may not be to the liking of everyone, but the fact cannot be denied that they certainly have a lot in them that can make us good kissers. Have you not wished you were a great kisser? Yes, most of us do and becoming one is not a big deal. All that you need to do is practice kissing as often you can and fascinate your girl or boy friend. Whether you are a male or a female, here are some advices that can make you a great kisser.

Watching people kissing in public can be a very delightful experience if only you have experienced it before; not the kind that happens inside closed doors and not shared with the rest of the world. It is best done where everyone can watch you and appreciate you. But before you practice doing it in public strike a deal with your boy or girl friend. Let your emotions be known to your partner. If you had never known how to go about it or where to start from, here is how you can start. Kissing in public is not an offence in many countries. But if you live in a country where it is don't try. Keep your distance from law and kisses.

Girls generally make a clicking sound when they kiss and that can be turn offs for guys and those around. Kisses must be as silent as one can make it. Boys on the other hand kiss so strongly like as if they are drawing blood out of the girl, and that is something the guys should avoid at all cost. The best way to kiss is lock the lips so they won't slip to the sides as the going gets frenzy. It is good to get frenzy but don't overstep as to make it look artificial. Note that kissing in public gives you excitements that you will not get within closed doors and the fact that you are being watched is the zing thing that will add to the excitement.

When kissing in public, pretend that you are oblivious to your surroundings. Any tell tale sign that your actions are deliberate can leave a bad taste in the minds of those who are seemingly enjoying your kissing. Vary your position as frequently as you can; the intensity, position and the way you position your hands on your partner are all too important to be ignored. Putting one of your hands around the girl's hips and drawing her closer to your body are the accessories to an otherwise plain kiss. Girls for their part can put their arms around her partner to give that extra intimacy to kisses. Kiss is not all about lips and tongues; it is deeper only if your body reflects the intimacy involved in kissing.

Always be a little considerate to your partner when kissing in public, it can make or break a deal you have with your partner. No one likes a bad kisser and if you have one, then it is your responsibility to teach your partner all the tricks up your sleeve.
