It is great honor to receive otherâ€™s wedding invitation that ask you to rearrange your schedule to attend their wedding ceremony . You may have already send back the save the date card in order to show your willingness to present at such great ceremony. When the definite date of spousal is approaching, what you should do is not only prepare the suitable clothe to the occasion, but also you should give learn something about the etiquette for guests in wedding ceremony. There are various general rules for you to learn them by heart. So letâ€™s start with our topic.

The first thing you should remember when you attend the wedding ceremony is punctual. You know, that when you have receive the invitation cards, the hosts may have wrote the time on the card. Remember the exact time! If you have any question about that , you could give the hosts a phone call in order to ensure everything. The best time of your presence may be a little earlier before the wedding started. However , if you are late , you may interrupt the ceremony and make the situation quite embarrassed. Another extreme is that you attend the occasion too early , that may bog you down as well. If you come across any emergency that may lead to your absence , call the bride and groom in advance to show your sorry. They may be quite impressed by your etiquette.

Another question people usually ask is that whether we should bring a gift when we attend otherâ€™s ceremony. The truth is that the new couple may be quite pleased with our gift. But take a gift at just the date is not quite necessary. A gift can be given till around the year or so after a wedding .

You may also want to know if it is proper to bring others to the wedding ceremony. The wedding card may have listed the person the hosts would like to invite .If they have mentioned the exact name , you should not bring others with you. Otherwise, you could take someone others with you. But remember ,tell the new couple in advance. You know, for the reception, if they have known that in advance ,they would have enough time to make preparations.

The fourth thing you should remember is your suit. The new couple may have told the exact arrangement of wedding ceremony in the wedding card. You should have learnt that the ceremony is a formal one or informal one, the wedding is in which theme or other special attentions. So suit you choose had better cater for the wedding theme . If the hosts havenâ€™t mentioned anything about clothing, suitable clothes would ensure you in a fine and decent manner.

Avoid drinking too much at the wedding ceremony even if you are quite excited .Following the arrangement of the hosts .

Take all of the above into consideration, you can be in a tactful behavior.
