Only one man has really brought in a drastic change in the world of wealth creation. Extrapolating the statement further it can be said that Roger Hamilton has changed the entire world forever. He has shown the world the ways and means of earning wealth. And wealth is one of those things without which one cannot move an inch forward in life. Roger knew it and spent some ten years in search of that wealth while following, or rather functioning within the existing system of wealth creation. And in the process he lost somewhere around $130 million along with the ten brilliant year of his life. The word brilliant needs to be emphasized here, because according to Roger these ten years were the best educating years of his life.

The ten years that Roger Hamilton spent being an entrepreneur, realized that there was something drastically wrong with the present system of wealth creation and it needed a complete overhauling. And this is exactly what he did. All those years that he spent while operating within the existing system that governs the world economy, he learnt some pretty good lessons. He delved further into the art of wealth creation and tried to understand the reason behind the success and failure of many men and women in the careers that they had chosen for themselves. And the result was the set of theories that he came out with it. And these theories have forever changed the world of wealth creation.

One of his theories that have changed the perception of the world regarding the concept of wealth creation is that of wealth dynamics. According to this theory it is important that before delving into the art of wealth creation, the individual should look inside of him and try to find his real strengths and weaknesses and focus only on his strengths and develop them further. And once he has done that, he would realize that all that he ever wanted to achieve in his life can easily be achieved. All the theories that have been created and introduced to the world by Roger Hamilton focus only on that.

And in order to make sure that he has chosen the right path for himself, it is necessary that he takes the Wdprofile test. This test has been designed very carefully by Roger Hamilton so that the person taking the test realizes his personality type. And after knowing the personality type that he is, the individual would take the right decision as far as choosing the career is concerned.
