

Article Side

A Guide to Choosing the Right Wedding Gown by Teuku Tajuddin

Article published on January 31st 2012 | Shopping

Tips to note for a Wedding Dress

A wedding day is the most special day, for a woman and the star attraction is the Bride Dress. You probably will imagine yourself, wearing a beautiful Wedding Gown that will be admired by your friends and family. There are some points to note, when choosing a Bride Dress.

â€¢ A lot depends on the theme of your wedding. Accessories do need to match with your dress. If you are going in, for a simple look, pearls would look very elegant with your Wedding Gown. Alternatively, antique jewelry would match better with a romantic-looking dress.

â€¢ Bridesmaid dresses do not have to match your bridal outfit. It does seem outdated to see the bride and her bridesmaids wearing, the same colored Gowns. A different color would be more appropriate, for the bridesmaid dresses.

â€¢ It is better to go in for Gowns that will suit your body shape. You should go in for a style that suits you. Pear-shaped brides should go in for A-line wedding gowns as that helps to hide their thighs and hips. For tall and slim brides, they should avoid wearing straight and tight dresses as they tend to look like sticks.

â€¢ You can also hire your wedding dress, if your budget is too tight. This helps you, to avoid spending unnecessarily.

Trendy Bridal Wear

Presently, there are some exciting trends in bridal wear, for the current year 2012. There are many variations to the style and design of bridal gowns. These include necklines, front slit skirts and cover ups for the bride dress, also. Slits are very fashionable, in ready-to-wear garments, so dress designers of bride dresses have adapted this style in their fashion collections. A wedding dress with a front slit looks, very fashionable. Another trend, which is in vogue, is the bridal dress, with a low-cut back. The front necklines of the bridal dress are usually, very modest in the front, with the back cut very low. The back is covered with a transparent material. This is something unusual, for a low-cut bridal dress. Sweetheart necklines are pretty eye-catching and very fashionable, also. The skin uncovered is closed by a sheer material. This material is decorated with crystals, beads and appliques. This is a very beautiful design and really, fabulous to look at. The covered neckline is much better than the strapless bride dress. Instead of, wearing necklaces with your bridal dress, you can wear earrings and bracelets. Capelets are short jackets that can be worn with strapless wedding gowns. The capelets are made of sheer lacy material and some of them, even have low cut backs.

Dressing up the Bride's Mother

The mother of the bride too, deserves to look special on the wedding day of her daughter. She is the one, who works the hardest to make it, a success. There are many different types of dresses available, for the mother who wants to look special on her daughter's wedding day. She would look very elegant and sophisticated in a two piece suit, regardless of her age. A swing dress or a long dress also would look quite fashionable, for her.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/shopping-articles/a-guide-to-choosing-the-right-wedding-gown.htm> -
Article Side

Teuku Tajuddin - About Author:

Teuku Tajuddin is a contributor to customdancedress.com (www.customdancedress.com), One of the best Online wedding dress store. He has been writing articles on a Bride Dress for many years.

Article Keywords:

Bride Dress

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!