Add Variety to Your Wardrobe with Akoya Pearls by Editor123

Akoya pearls are some of the most beautiful pearls. The reason for this is due to the shape and size of these beautiful treasures. Akoya pearls are known for their perfectly round shape. Each time a pearl is removed from the oyster, one can be sure that it is flawless in shape. The reason for this is the way the Akoya pearl oyster is nucleated.

During the time of implantation, when an irritant is placed in a specific part of the flesh within the oyster, an irritant that is seamless in shape is used. Once the irritant is inside the oyster, it is closed up, and in the case of Akoya pearls returned to saltwater to form a pearl.

After several years, the oyster is brought back to the surface then opened up, finding a perfect pearl. The oyster has built layers over the irritant, making it a pearl. These pearls come in white but are usually enhanced to a black color and on occasion, an emerald green color. One other reason Akoya pearls are so popular is because of the sizes they come in.

Generally pearls start out at sizes around 5 to 6 mm and reach sizes of 12-14. With Akoyas, these gems are 3-4mm and only reach sizes of about 10 mm.

Akoya pearls are generally used to create magnificent strands. This traditional design compliments every woman and offers an elegant look for any ensemble. Though AKoya pearls are most commonly used in strand designs, they also make beautiful stud earrings, which are a delicate touch to any outfit because of their charming size.

Pearl rings and bracelets are also designed using these pearls. No matter what type of accessory you wear,, pearls are the best option to choose from. They can be worn daily, with any outfit and offer both a traditional and modern look, depending on the design. At Aloha pearls, you will find many different types of pearls including the widest variety of Akoya pearls.
