College students and parents all across Australia understand how expensive textbooks have become over the last decade or so. This is on top of other school costs that have gone up as well. One way to stay within budget when it comes to college textbooks is to consider using textbook rental services. For many students and parents, working with a textbook rental online service is a great way to save significant money over the course of a school year.

One of the better known and better operated textbook rental online services is the Campus Bookstore. They have been around since the 70's and have, over the years, earned an outstanding reputation for helping students who are in need of textbooks. They are currently a part of the O Group Limited, which is a not-for-profit company that bolsters students across Australia.

Their website was designed and created to help students who are looking for textbook rental programs that are both affordable as well as functional. By functional, we mean that they offer the textbooks that students are truly looking for, which save the student time and frustrating. They also offer students new and used textbooks for those who wish to purchase and keep their textbooks. In addition to a great selection of college books, they also carry a professional line of nursing and Medical equipment as well as various other supplies. All of which are priced with the student in mind.

Over the years, The Campus Bookstore has become one of the largest and most recognized book outlets in the whole of Australia. While there are many benefits to working with this bookstore, one of the more popular is that students and parents do not have to join anything. There are no membership fees for those who wish to buy textbooks or for those looking for textbook rentals. For anyone looking for cheap textbooks, this should be the first stop. Another benefit, and one that is not often revealed, is that all of the profits are used for student projects which further assists those attending college.

In terms of selection, the bookstore offers students access to the most current books; the ones that are in demand right now. Even though they offer students access to cheap textbooks, the books are well maintained (used and rentals) and students will have no problem using them for their classes. The website contains a full listing of the current textbooks that are available as well as complete information on prices.

Students who wish to take advantage of the textbook rental program will also be pleased to know that the company pays all shipping charges throughout Australia. This is yet one more way that the store is helping students to save money while they get their education. Rental books are shipped with return postage and package, which makes it easy to return books when due.

If you need to save money on college costs, a visit to The Campus Bookstore website is a great way to get started. As mentioned above, full details are available at the site as well as list of current textbooks available for sale or rent.
