Bridal jewelry is the greatest asset of any woman, as it signifies the most important day of her life. Bridal jewelry designs are the most beautiful ones, as everyone wants to buy a precious set of jewelry for the cynosure of their eyes. Parents and elder siblings dot on a girl and wish the best jewelry designs to be implemented in her wedding jewelry to show her how much they love her.

Bridal jewelry comes in so many metals with a variety of metals and stones. Mainly gold, silver and bronze are used to make jewelry, using precious and semi precious stones as well as diamonds and pearls. Both white and yellow gold with diamonds and stones make beautiful designs and patterns of jewelry. Generally the wedding bands are preferred to be gold and diamonds.

The typical jewelry designs for a bride include, finger ring, necklace and ear ring set, bracelet, tiara, hair pin and so on. But with time the jewelry designs started expand their horizon and began to involve, hand gloves laced with precious stones, hand bags and clutches with gold and silver chains and pearl assortments, even the veil is lined up at the front with stones and pearls to add a touch of class.

So many stores sell all these modern day bridal jewelry that give an air of confidence to the bride on her special day.

Wedding bands and rings are mostly made of yellow or white gold with diamond or other precious stone detailing. Necklace and ear ring sets are also available in gold, silver and bronze with almost all the stores, but to make the wedding a really special one and to look best a bride usually wants gold and diamond jewelry for her wedding. Anything would look good on her, but as per an old saying â€œonly diamonds can add the sparkle to a brideâ€™s eyesâ€•, she chooses diamonds or preciou stones to adorn her.

The tiara is a onetime affair, so it can be a sterling silver piece with dazzling stones, to make the bride look a true princess. Bracelets for the bride must have multicolored stones or diamonds, in order to add color to her all white wedding gown.

Wedding shoes can also have some glittering stone detailing to complete the look of the bride. Wedding jewelry is very essential, but the thumb rule is not to overdo it. Brideâ€™s inner beauty should shine in her eyes, rather than take a back seat with the over glittering jewelry. One should opt for jewelry that would complement her look and make her confident of herself, not the other way round.
