Summer is around the bend, and the swimsuit-shopping season is now upon us. Department store racks are full of new bikinis in all shapes and sizes, and it is your job to choose one that makes you look and feel great. Chances are, if you feel at all self-conscious about your body, shopping for a bikini is not at the top of your list of favorite things. Undoubtedly, the never-ending trips to the dressing room seem like pure, unadulterated torture as you try to tuck your leftover winter fat into two tiny scraps of cloth.

The Billabong bikini is a bikini that conforms to your curves. It is a major fashion statement that asserts joy and ultra-modern fashion sensibilities. Bring a little Jamaica to your beach scene this summer with a Billabong bikini. With different colors ranging from yellow to electric blue, this bikini really empowers the person wearing it to be the best dressed girl on the entire beach. A person can totally show off their fashion prowess by exposing their newly tanned or soon to be tanned body with this bikini. The top is made of 80% nylon and 20% lycra, this makes it a great bikini for use when going swimming. Imagine diving into the ocean and or playing with dolphins. Imagine seeing coral down below and pretty tropical fish. Even if a person is not going anywhere particularly exotic, a person can easily just be at their best friend's swimming pool and make this look their own, bringing tropical immediately into the scene.

Though people usually think of bikinis mostly in connection with water, such as a beach or a pool; Bikinis are also excellent for sun bathing or gardening outside with a pair of shorts on and the bikini top. The Billabong Rasta bikini is excellent for all those styling cues. The styling cues of the bikini Rasta top give it all the ways of exploring options and innovations and dressing down to the nines.

If a person is thinking of alternative swimwear, such as a one-piece, it should be pointed out that bikinis are actually the most popular beachwear out there. Often times bikinis will only be one color, but the Billabong Bikini is many colors squiggled together in high-glo awesomeness. The Billabong Rasta really hugs your body but with maximum comfort and it flexibly absorbs into the body. This form-fitting style uniquely captures its wearer's unique bodily beauty, and stands up to time, for future photographs and such.
