Christenings and baptism are extremely vital occasions in a person's life. At the early stage of childhood, a person is christened. During such an occasion, the child is brought nearer to god and is embraced. He or she is also honored with a Christian name. At that time his body and soul get purified once he has a communion with god. Most of the families celebrate such an event with great expectations and merriment. All the relatives and family friends are invited during such an occasion, and christening gifts are given to the child. These gifts are very important and attractive to look, which make the day memorable.

While christening, the child is cleansed of all his sins and everything takes place in a church. There are some churches which execute this occasion by putting the infant under water. He or she is put into water either partially or wholly. Sometimes they are lowered and submerged under water. They become purified of their sins, as soon as they are raised from water. It is then that they can join the church. This day is very important in an infant's life.

Quality christening gifts should be bought and given to make this day significant. If you attend any function of this sort, never forget to carry a present for the child.

What can be the best christening gifts?

A rosary with birthstone is among the best christening gifts. This gift makes a splendid connection between the little child who is receiving it, and his new bonding with god. Such a rosary comes exclusively or in a magnificent set, which includes a prayer card. Other presents can be a silver angel pin or a necklace. A necklace is something that the child can wear all his life, and this is something remarkable.

You can also give religious and spiritual medals with the child's new Christian name engraved on them. With these gifts, a connection between the child and his patron saint is built. To symbolize the day, a pewter necklace is another beautiful gift that can be given. This necklace adorns the very name of the infant's saint, his patron. Crosses and crucifixes can also be given to the child to depict his bond with god. You can give these in a necklace, so that when the child grows up, he can carry it along his neck whole life. It makes him remember of the religious heritage. Children's bibles can also be the best christening gifts which contain pictures and biblical stories.
