Makeup Tips for winter season by Webinfinite

Article published on July 31st 2012 | Shopping

During the winter months, apart from chilling cold and dense fog, you also have to overcome many beauty challenges in order to look beautiful. Chapped lips, dry skin, watering eyes are few outcomes of frigid weather on your appearance. The freezing cold season plays hard on your skin as well as face. But you can still look stunning if you keep updating your Makeup products India and beauty regimens according to the demand of the season. Letâ€™s find out some of the common makeup concerns pertinent to winter season and know the solution for the same.

Watering eyes leading to running Mascara and Eye liner-one of the most common problems faced especially by those who commute by two wheelers. Watering eyes results from dipping temperature and suspended dust particles in the atmosphere and leads to smudged eyes and unclean appearance. You must use waterproof eye makeup products India which can stay right on place to give you sparkling look. There are many brands which have come up with waterproof eye products at reasonable rates. For additional precaution you can dust your eyelids with pressed or loose powder before applying the makeup.

Lipsticks look dappled on chapped lips- To get rid of chapped and dehydrated lips in winter season, use face scrubs to exfoliate and remove dead skin from your lips. It is advised to use hydrating lip balms on regular basis before going to bed, so that you can get more luscious and beautiful lips. Avoid using lipsticks available in cheap airbrush makeup kit India. Instead go for good brands and high quality products for your lips. The best lipsticks to wear in winter season are the one with cream base and added moisturizer. To get instant relief from this problem use more of Saturn and frosty lipstick than matte because matte shades draw more attention towards chapped lips.

Foundation and Powder highlights the dry patches on face-Dry and cold winter breeze results in parched and damaged skin with patches and thus it becomes difficult to coat foundation or powder on the affected area so as to form a smooth base for applying makeup. It is therefore advised to make some changes in your makeup kit India. First and foremost replace the foundation with tinted moisturizer which will help in hydrating your skin and reduce the blemishes. Use â€œpowder absorbs oilâ€ instead of pressed powder which will help in tightening the skin (only if you donâ€™t have oily skin).

Making small changes in your makeup bag India and beauty routine will assure you beautiful skin and attractive appearance in winters. So donâ€™t be afraid of falling temperature and dry chilling winds. Go ahead and enjoy the bliss of winter season.
