Every growing up individual and particularly the boys start cultivating a dream of joining the army, or in general the defense forces. But not everybody is fortunate enough of being selected into the defense forces. But then not every dream needs to be realized in exactly the way it is meant to be. And what with the creative minds that are always on the lookout for tht something new, that something exemplary to change the way the world looks at the world itself and then takes its decisions are still walking on this planet. Well coming back to the dream of the youngsters of joining the defense forces and many of them not being able to do so, now there is a way out in which they can at east adorn that military gear.

The way out is the sport of paintball that is a very unique sport in itself. It is a sport that is played between two teams. In short it can be said that this sport is nothing else but a wonderful replica of a military force out on the mission to protect its territory and its people. The only difference between the two is that while the actual scene in which the military of the nation is involved requires the soldiers to use the real weapons, whereas in the sport of paintball the weapons that are used are the ones that are merely sportive in nature as well as do not have the potency and the lethality of the real weapons. Although the weapons used in this sport are not dangerous and life threatening but yet they can be harmful if the proper military top is not worn by the players and safety precautions are not taken. But still the military stuff that is worn by the players in the sport are an ample proof that if you due to some reasons were not able to utilize your killer instincts in the real time battle, then you can do that by participating in the sport of paintball.

The chemical paintball, the variety of guns and armory used in this sport can give you the feel of the real time war. But the best part is that no matter which team ends up as the winner, ultimately both the teams, once the sport is over, go back to the same barracks and get the opportunity of discussing the strengths and weaknesses of each othersâ€™. But the best part is that the players of both the teams get the opportunity to adorn the millitary gear and in fact all the military stuff that a real time warrior does.
