Top five LPG cars in India

by Mike Nielsen

Article published on April 17th 2012 | Shopping

When petrol and diesel's rate are touching sky then people are shifting towards the cost effective solutions. Because of all these problems car makers are making more models with LPG and CNG. It's no more easy for people to afford fuel especially petrol. Here are five LPG cars in India which are quite in demand.

Tata Indica V2 Xeta GLE LPG BS-IV

Its a very nice car which comes in the market full of multiple features and a complete new sporty looks. Engine of this car is really smooth and the car really looks appreciable if you compare it from its predecessor, the quality of paint and finishing is set to the high standards of Tata Indica. The best art is that because of LPG you can save lot of money. The resale value of the car is also awesome.

Tata Indica V2 GLS LPG BS-IV

Its a great car and gives you great comfort much better in comparison. It's an economical car which delivers better performance that too at better mileage and posh image. It's a highly comfortable car it comes with spacious leg room and a comfortable rear seat. Due to its high powered engine its very smooth on road and it is always in front on the city traffic. Also it gives a mileage of 11.8kmpl. Though this car is not very impressive in terms of interiors and safety.

Maruti Suzuki Omni LPG

Its a highly spacious car which is very good for traveling long distance with full family. This car is one of the oldest models of Maruti Suzuki with very spacious rear seats and leg room. The car is highly spacious to carry extra luggage. The most important is that its a smooth car with high performance and can be bought into use for multiple purpose. It is a fuel efficient car which comes with a list of features and is economical in price with a decent resale value.

Maruti Suzuki Wagon R Lxi LPG

This car can be said to be a family oriented car, infact it is loved by every middle class family because of its features and price. This car truly makes driving a fun with its smooth and aerodynamic design which will surely drive you crazy on highways. It is powered with 1061cc, 4 cylinder, LPG engine which makes it very cost effective, 5 manual gears and many other things. Some features are missing in this car like alloy wheels, tubeless tyres , air bags, rear wash wipers which is necessary for highway. The car is also available in 8 different colors which gives you chance to choose your favorite one.

Chevrolet Spark PS 1.0 LPG

Its a small car with an LPG engine and it is also an upgraded version of PS 1.0 which is made of a cutting edge technology and is also powered by 995cc, 4 cylinder, 2 valves, SOCH, LPG engine. The car comes with too many features which is ready to beat its rivals on any given road. It is smart and smooth car which is good for cities heavy traffic also its a small car so parking should not be a big issue.

These cars might lack some features but they are not rated bad and LPG is surely an added advantage at this time when rate of petrol is going high and only high.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/shopping-articles/top-five-lpg-cars-in-india.htm - Article Side

Mike Nielsen - About Author:
Carspricesindia is the largest car portal provides complete and comparative information about a Car Prices in India . Here user can find out information about all upcoming and new cars like a Maruti Ertiga car Prices , Mahindra XUV 500 car Prices with their features and specification.

Article Keywords:
New car prices, Latest car prices in India, New Car Photos, Car Picture, Car Wallpapers

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!