Article published on August 4th 2012 | Shopping

Gaming is a craze that caught in many years ago and has not still abated. The Nintendo was hugely popular and even now is used worldwide for hours of gaming pleasure. The Nintendo is a hand held device with a dual screen and has had many upgraded models since it first started. There are many sites from where one can easily download games and their latest versions except for one drawback that the Nintendo has. There is a limited memory option and earlier games would have to be deleted before new ones can be stored. To counter this, manufacturers came up with a R4 card. This card increases the memory option of the Nintendo allowing many more games and other applications to be downloaded and enjoyed.

Each R4 comes with a slot where a MicroSD card can be inserted, this R4 Card works like an adaptor and ensures a very quick transfer of data to and from the console. With its ability to download many useful applications a user can now download and save videos, images, games that require a large amount of memory and even applications for music and e-books. This makes it a very useful device and the fact that it very easy to use as well as very quick adds to its popularity. R4 cards are available with different memory capacities to meet different requirements. Choose from a 2 GB R4 up to a 32 GB one. The features and prices of these will also vary according to the memory and the manufacturer. The R4 card is also easy to install and needs no technical knowledge to use.

There are many manufacturers of these cards and it is important to ensure the efficiency of the product before investing in a card. A company that guarantees its products and one that has a good name in the market must be the one to choose. A sub standard card will be useless after some time and could even corrupt the console. Among the reputed names in the business is the R4i Card. This company is very popular for its range of these cards and has a wide variety for a customer to choose from. The prices for these cards are also the best and lower than the nearest competitor. Every card is checked before it is shipped out and guaranteed as well. There is a 45 day warranty for all their products and each R4 comes preloaded with software. The 24x7 customer service is also an assurance of the quality of the service on offer.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/shopping-articles/use-the-r4-card-for-even-more-memory-capacity-than-before.htm - Article Side

Atherol Garcia - About Author:
Atherol Garcia is a united kingdom authors working at r4icarduk as an marketing expert. if you are looking for more details on r4 and R4 Card than please visit our website.

Article Keywords:
R4,R4 Card

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!