Uncontested Divorce Miami -- About Costs, Courts, and the Kids by Mickyjaany

Article published on December 28th 2011 | Society

Are you looking for an uncontested divorce in Miami? Then here's a tip -- don't go to the courts just yet! Do what most divorcing couples do now, and hire a divorce mediator instead. Why? Simple -- because it's best for your money, the courts, and the kids.

Why Divorce Mediation?

Divorce mediation is a relatively new practice in the divorce scene, and it's very quickly becoming the most popular first step for divorcing couples to take. In divorce mediation, special professionals called â€œmediatorsâ€• help you and your spouse thresh out a compromise that works best for everyone concerned, then forward it to the courts to be finalized and carried out.

Divorcing couples like mediators because they help them save time and money. Courts like mediators because they free up valuable time and money to focus on other cases, instead of slaving through one divorce case after another.

Divorce mediators are trained to be 100% impartial. They're not marriage counselors who try to patch things up for you and your spouse. They focus on just one thing -- and that's reaching the best possible compromise between you and your spouse, so that everyone concerned is happy once the divorce goes through.

If you want an uncontested divorce in Miami, then hiring a divorce mediator is your best bet. Take note that you'll have to be willing to sit down with your spouse to make the whole mediation process work.

How Much And How Long?

The first question that most divorcing couples ask is this: â€œHow much is it going to cost?â€• Contrary to popular belief, mediation won't ADD to your legal bills. In fact, since your mediator does most of the work, you won't have to pay your lawyers to battle it out in the courts -- a long, drawn-out, costly process.

The second question is this: â€œHow long does it take?â€• You'll be pleased to know that mediation takes much less time to reach an amicable compromise than the usual court litigation process. Without any fighting and animosity holding things back, you can expect a good conclusion in 90 days (instead of 18 months!).

What About The Kids?

More good news -- mediation is actually better for the kids. Since mediation avoids the usual adversarial approach that court litigation processes take, the kids experience less emotional stress. And since the mediation process finishes so quickly, everyone gets on with their lives much more easily.

And best of all, since you and your spouse part ways on good terms, your kids will still have both their parents around as they grow up.

Want An Uncontested Divorce In Miami?

If you want an uncontested divorce in Miami, then the answer is right in front of you right now -- find a divorce mediator! It's best to find a mediator who's actually based in the Magic City itself -- someone who's familiar with the state divorce laws and problems that most divorcing couples in Miami go through.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/society-articles/uncontested-divorce-miami-about-costs-courts-and-the-kids.htm - Article Side

Mickyjaany - About Author:
If you need best family mediator for a Miami divorce lawyers, then Our practice specializes in Un-Contested and Contested divorce mediation. To get more details about a divorce lawyers in Miami please visit our website.

Article Keywords:
Divorce Mediation Miami,Miami Dade county divorce,divorce in Miami,Miami divorce,Miami divorce lawyer

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!