Article published on December 27th 2011 | Software

Technology is supposed to make things simple. But one look at the back office necessities of any lawyer or law firm, and you'd be hard pressed to think so.

You've got your law firm email and web hosting account; your bank account and credit card(s); your shared document files; your utility and other service provider accounts; subscriptions to trade journals and professional associations; social media accounts; and perhaps a portal or two you share with a corporate client. Real simple, right?

Wouldn't it be great to manage all those login detailsâ€”usernames and passwordsâ€”in one fell swoop?

Now you can. With InfoGuard, Easy Soft's newest password management software, you can organize all of your login accountsâ€”down to their categories.

Staying Organized

InfoGuard gives you the freedom to remember only one master passwordâ€”and effortlessly access up to HOW MANY law firm accounts.

You can then store all of those accounts within an organized, sortable grid. You can easily view them, search through them, and make adjustments as need be.

Staying Safe

And now for InfoGuard's key feature. With our new product, you create a hacker-safe database. The password management program keeps track of all passwords for youâ€”encrypting what's sensitive so that unauthorized partiesâ€”particularly hackersâ€”simply can't break in.

Controlling Access

You can also control user access via InfoGuard . Assign your records to one or more groups, then set permission levels of each of these groups. In this way, you can easily track which employees and other users have access to which accounts.

For most companies, maintaining account login data, managing account security and providing employees with selected access is a daily challenge.

To download your free trial of this enterprise password management software, click here. To learn more about InfoGuard and other cutting edge law firm programs, give us a call at 800-905-7638.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/software-articles/announcing-infoguard-easy-soft-s-password-management-software.htm - Article Side

Maria Gini - About Author:

Easy Soft specializes in helping law firms automate their processes with a legal software. Easy Soft has automated software solutions for virtually every practice area, from case management, document assembly and a law office software, to law firm cash flow management.

Article Keywords:
password management software, enterprise password management software, legal software, law office software

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!