How to Find the Most Powerful and Affordable Accounting Software for Home and Business by Melvin Keller

Article published on June 7th 2012 | Software

If you are like many individuals and business owners, you may have been wishing that there was an Accounting Software For Home And Business that is easy to use, simple to understand, and yet powerful enough to take care of your financial information. Another entry on that wish-list might be that the accounting software must be affordable and offer free support should you have questions or issues. Well, now that wish-list is a reality. The online company, Accountz, is offering its accounting software for home and business to the general public, and it comes with a revolutionary new feature call the Eazy Button.

It is no secret that many individuals and small businesses need access to high-quality accounting software. But these same individuals are managing their home budgets, and these same business owners are managing their businesses; they do not have the time to become professional accountants. They need, and deserve, accounting software for home and business that meets their desired goals, and they should not have to pay expensive prices for that software. In addition, they should not be expected to have to invest weeks of their time learning their software. The new range of accounting software offered by Accounz includes their Eazy Button 2012 feature which brings affordability, as well as ease of use, to accounting software.

This new brand of accounting software for home and business offers an impressive slate of features. For instance, with this software, users can finally take full control of their finances regardless of their internet connection. They can now design invoices any way that they wish. They can use the software for life without having to actually pay for it for life. They get free updates for the product as well as forum support. For business owners, they get automatic VAT rate changes, along with a complete line of other business related options.

With this accounting software for home and business, users get access to an award-winning home management and business accounting software that lets them know where their money is going at any particular time. This is a great tool for planning. The software is compatible with Windows, Mac and Linux, and it can be downloaded instantly with Accountz free trial plan.

This software is also ideal for businesses. It is simple to use, but is also very powerful. Business users, for instance, can produce a VAT return in just a single click of the mouse. And for home users, the Home Accountz version consolidates all their accounts into a single, easy to understand view so they can see exactly what they are worth and budget and plan accordingly.

When it comes to support, Accountz has you covered there, too. They offer 24/7 access to their very popular forums. They have one for home finance and another for their business customers. These forums are manned by their support staff as well as qualified bookkeepers. They also offer email support and telephone support is available for business accounts for 30 days for free. Afterwards, there is a small charge for telephonic support, but forum and email support remain free.
