How to share video with friends via Email? by Desiree

Article published on January 10th 2012 | Software

When people have recorded a video of his or her birthday, they want to share it with their friends, parents, brothers, or sisters, but their enthusiasm may be thwarted when they don't know how to do so. Or how to do it as fast as possible. So here, I'd like to introduce a way for you to share video or picture on You Tube, Flickr, Tudou, Youku or other site fast and easy! Before we start, you need a software called VideoFlick, it is a very good and easy to use video share and authoring software, you can download and try it for free form here: <http://www.blazevideo.com/videoflick/> After you installed and launch the software, let's getting started: 1, Run Blaze VideoFlick After you download the software from our website, you can install it in you computer, then run the software.

2, Load video or image file you want to add watermark Press "File - Open" or the "Import" but navigate to the files you want to add. Or drag & drop the image or video file(s) to the grey area.

After one or several video or image files are imported successfully, you can see all of them listed in the program.

3, Select a video file, then press the "Email" button bellow, you'll see a small video sharing window after filling the five blanks: Your Name, Your Email, Target Email, Subject and Message, then press share. OK, job was done, so quick isn't it?

That's it! If you want to download and try VideoFlick for free, just go to: <http://www.blazevideo.com/videoflick/>
