Coming world will see a different PC, in fact there wonâ€™t be a PC type machine as you see today. And for some good reasons if itâ€™s there, no doubt the way of computing would be different. Windows Live Essentials is a glimpse of that. Putting everything from documents, mails, photos, movies to intellectual stuffs on the Internet it empowers people to work with fun, and enjoy services with no wall. It aims to search and discover multiple aspects of a personality digging the grey cortex, viz. designer, photographer, writer, and workaholic professional.

Letâ€™s start with mail the basic feature of Windows Live Essentials that gives connectivity with the outside world and permits people to put all conversation from different service providers like Hotmail, Gmail or Yahoo mail, etc. into one. So, no more hassle to switch service provider. Integrated calendar can sync with a web calendar. One can edit events and can retrieve messages and event status even in the absence of the Internet connectivity. Armored with intelligent spam filter, it keeps junk email, or message that looks suspicious at a bay. One can easily delete and block the senderâ€”all in one click. Instant messenger has come with a broad view, it is capable to facilitate high-definition video calling, and invite Facebook friends as well. The IM feature goes well with the Windows Phone and Android.

Photo Gallery discards the demand of any additional of photo editing software. Photo Gallery automatically finds the people in your photos so you can add a name to the face. Then later, all you need to do is type in someoneâ€™s name to see all the photos of that person. Even a novice can transfer photos and videos between camera and PC. Easy-to-use and effective tools are enough to give professional looks to those. Photo Fuse is to blend two or more photos into one, so that one can give the best look to his/her panoramas. One can easily share those with favorite social networking sites like Facebook or YouTube in a few clicks. Movie Maker adds the same fleet of flexibility and right to a user. Individuals can import photos and videos and edit those, add theme, and share on the web. At last the Writer component is just icing on the cake that allows users to share words, photos, and videos on almost any blog serviceâ€”WordPress, Blogger, LiveJournal, TypePad, and many more. Above all, these stuffs are not restricted to your PC or workstation anymore. Get those uploaded on the SkyDrive and have accessibility from anywhere anytime.

To take care of all these elements Microsoft has inducted the Windows Live Support either directly or through Microsoft Certified Partner Network. Experts are ready to resolve all issues related to each and every component. They can remotely look into your system, diagnose various settings pertaining to Windows, Firewall, Internet, and more, update all software, driver and firmware to let you stay productive in an uninterrupted way.

Beyond doubt Windows live help offers authentic solution for each and every issue on real-time, but users can also take hold of their account and stored digital assets. Errors related to sign-in can be temporarily, and one should try to get access to the ID through other computer on a different Internet connection. One can amend browser and firewall settings to restore the Windows Live service. Taking protection of third-party software with advanced features like heuristic detection and cloud update is must to curb emerging Internet threats.
