Have you ever thought of the softball equipment? Well, softball is one of the very important games in America. The softball equipments are quite similar to the baseball. In the olden days, people used to call them the indoor baseball and the originator of this game is Hancock, who did a great job while he prepared the ball and the bat. The bat of the softball was a bit smaller and you are also going to find that the ball was heavier and bigger than that of the baseball. This is the basic difference between both the games.

In softball game, there are around 10 to 14 players in a team. It depends on you that how many players you are choosing for your team. In real sense, you are certainly find that some of baseball players show a great interest in this game and this is certainly quite great for them. They enjoyed the game when it was at first played between the two teams in the year 1887. After two years, the whole complexion changed and you should know that the rules came into existence in the year 1889, after two years when it was played between the two teams.

In real sense, the ground is not that big and you might find that the length and breadth of the diamond field varies from 67 meters to around 77 meters. This is certainly not that big as far as the baseball field is concerned. It is diamond in shapes as well. You should also have knowledge about the pitches. The ball is pitched underhand and not overhand as in case of the baseball. Thus, the ball is thrown at much less speed. This makes the name of the game, which is the softball.

Soccer nets have no connection with the softball equipments. However, the soccer nets are just like the softball gloves. Though the soccer nets declare and finalize the goal, the softball gloves are just meant for catching. The most important softball equipments are certainly the bat and the ball. As far as the bat is concerned, it is smaller in comparison to baseball bat. However, if you will have a look at the ball then you might find that the ball is bigger. The quality of bat is hard that allows perfect grip to play with it. Thus, you can get the softball equipments in online market also, which is most popular among the people.
