With the application development market conquering the business, it is important that the business owners be careful during the process of development. Smart phones and mobile applications has become a fantasy for the people especially to those teenagers who spend hours and hours dealing with these phones and its apps. There is no rule that everyone should necessarily accept all the apps sponsored by the Android application development, as individual developers depending on their ability and creativity create them separately. People have their own ideas and opinion about the different applications and they have every right to express their opinion. Hence it is very much important for the android application development services to consider several factors before starting the business, in order that they can reach the people easily and constructively.

While using the applications, some people may be extremely satisfied and happy to use it, some people may like it moderately and some people may never like it or hate it and may remove them immediately. That depends on the opinion of the different persons. Android application development services have to keep in mind that their main aim is to reach maximum number of customers in a positive way. There are a lot of differences in opinion of the people using these different apps. When introducing a new app or when introducing many new apps, the application development company feels it better when they have more positive feedbacks rather than the negative ones. It is more like having more likes than dislikes.

To avoid dislikes from the customers, the android application development company has to consider several factors, which can guarantee 100% customer satisfaction. The company has to think about many things which can guarantee success to the applications, website or the game that they have developed. The most important points that should be kept in mind by the development company so that they can make maximum profits in the application development are while developing apps of websites, be sure that they mimic the design, color and other characters of the original website. Care should be taken that they should always mimic the parent website. Since, the apps are mainly used on a mobile device, it is the presentation of the content that is more important rather than the graphics and other decorations. Be sure that the developer includes all the necessary information in the application instead on concentrating on the design and presentation. Before going into the development process, the android app development services ahs to careful in analyzing what they are going to offer to the customer and if they can make and what they are going to offer to the developer for creating the application. The company before proceeding with the application services should keep all these points in mind.
