Article published on March 2nd 2012 | Technology

Automated billing is a process of creating invoices for various goods and services by billing software. This type of Billing Service is known for providing the privilege to generate and send electronic copies of the invoices to the customers. When one uses this type of billing software it becomes easy to manage the invoicing process with greater efficiency capable of helping the companies save on two very important resources, i.e. time and money.

The benefits of the automated billing process are many. This provides the customers a detailed billing service. A very interesting feature of this billing process is that water can be saved. How is that possible? The municipality can charge the customers according to the water used by them and all this is possible with the help of automated process. The size of the workforce can also be reduced with the help of this software, as the owners do not have to employ a large number of people for performing the same repeated tasks. The customers can study the usage reports by themselves without seeking help from some hired personnel. A host of functions is performed by the software which further makes it a dynamic tool automating the billing process. The process has become much simpler. Earlier the billing process was a three tier technique consuming a lot of time. the automated billing works best when a customer has a standing order or there is a recurring payment that has to be requested on a weekly or a monthly basis. With the help of this application, the system can be used to automatically generate standing or recurring invoices to the desired customers. This process is helpful in eliminating the need of the employees to waste time in the same job over and over again. This results in more productive and cost efficient utilization of resources. Companies of all sizes use this software..

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/technology-articles/what-are-the-benefits-of-automated-billing.htm - Article Side

James - About Author:
For more information on a Billing Service, check out the info available online; these will help you learn to find the a automated billing!

Article Keywords:
Billing Service, Automated Billing

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!