The mobile technology has come a long way. It's the era of Smartphones. The popularity and range of Smartphones exploded in the last few years.

What is a Smartphone? For a mobile phone to be called a Smartphone, it needs to offer certain advanced features.

Key features of Smartphones -

- Touch Screen

- Large, bright, & high resolution displays range from 2 inches to over 4 inches (measured diagonally)

- Powerful processors

- Email

- Web Browser

- Wi-Fi

- Camera

- Organizer

- PC Sync

- Stage Widgets

- FM Radio

- Media Players

- Expandable Memory

- Easy multi-tasking

- Innumerable Apps

- Plus make phone calls, texting, etc.

And many more features. Smartphones are more like mobile PCs that comprise the features similar to a personal computer and supports both communication and PDA functions while also use touch screen. Lighten your load by picking up an all-in-one device instead of carrying around a mobile phone in India and a PDA. You can use it as an organizer, an e-mail device, a cell phone, or all of the above. For a comfortable typing experience it comes with a QWERTY keyboard or an on-screen keyboard.

Smartphones allow multi-tasking, lets you browse the internet, download books, play games, watch movies and videos in high resolution, share photos, stay connected with friends via social networking sites like Facebook, Twitter, create and share presentations, edit documents, send e-mails, and much more.

The future of Smartphones certainly seem bright with Apple, HTC, Samsung, Sony, Nokia, Motorola and every other major brand releasing a new, faster, more powerful Smartphone on weekly basis. These innovative & feature rich Smartphones use OS like Windows, Android, Apple's iOS, RIM's BlackBerry, Nokia's Symbian and HP WebOS. Each Smartphone has better functions that vary device-to-device with the OS, memory, processor power, advanced APIs, etc.

Some of the most popular Smartphones from leading brands-

• Samsung Galaxy S II

• HTC Sensation

• iPhone4S

• Sony Ericsson Xperia Arc

• Motorola Droid Razr
