Booking Guest Houses Gauteng by Mary Porter

Article published on July 10th 2012 | Travel

If youâ€™re planning a trip to South Africa then you may be looking for Guest houses in Gauteng or a Guest house in Honeydew for part of your stay. Gauteng is the smallest of South Africaâ€™s nine provinces and means the â€˜place of goldâ€™. Gauteng is the commercial and industrial part of South Africa and is a very cosmopolitan place with a mix of people from all walks of life. As well as Gauteng attracting a lot of business travellers there is also lots to see and do for tourists such as museums, galleries, historical battlefields, shops, restaurants and great music venues. This is what attracts people to Gauteng and why guest houses in the Gauteng area are in high demand. To get the best of both worlds from your trip to Gauteng you can stay in a tranquil countryside retreat whilst being close to all the action for when you want it.

There are lots of different guest houses in Gauteng. Guest house Honeydew properties are the ideal place to stay if you want to experience a more tranquil and traditional South African village setting. The majority of Guest houses in Gauteng are situated in very beautiful rural locations and offer a peaceful retreat for anyone who wants to experience true South African hospitality. Most of the Guest houses Gauteng will offer in house dining facilities; a lounge area, relaxing gardens and many will have a nice swimming pool for the summer months.

You can be spoilt for choice when looking for a Guest house Honeydew property as most of the properties are decorated to such a high standard and all offer something a bit different. Most guest house Honeydew properties will have high class bedrooms and bathrooms all of which will be decorated in modern and distinctive styles. The cost of staying in guest houses Gauteng will vary depending on the time of year you travel, how long you stay for and the type of room you require.
