Different Types of Limousine Hire Services

by Christina Kevin

Article published on June 11th 2012 | Travel

Limousines are luxury vehicles especially designed for traveling with extreme comfort and style. They are created especially for the people who are fond of class and status. These special vehicles are symbol of wealth and are hired by people around the world for attending special events and occasions or for the places where a great first impression is required. There are various kinds of limousines each designed to fit different requirements. The limousines range from sedans to stretched limos and even buses. The different types of limousines include sedan limos, SUV limos, Stretched limos, SUV stretch, luxury vans last but not least limo buses. The most economical and cheaper limousines are the sedan limousines while the most expensive are the stretched sedans and SUVs. The limousines are used at different occasions for different events. Some of them include:

Airport car hire

The people who are fond of traveling with comfort and luxury usually do not bother to look for taxis or airport shuttle transfer services when they arrive at the airport. Instead they prefer making their airport transfer booking prior to their arrival at the airport in order to avoid any kind of inconvenience and waste of time later on. The corporate travelers as well as wealthy people whether singles or families, usually hire chauffer driven limousines as means of transfer from airports to their private residences or hotels.

Prom limo hire

Promenade which is known as the most awaited event for all of the high school students is often celebrated by hiring prom limousines. There is a great deal of expectations associated with this day and students start making preparations weeks and even months before the event. In this regard they save money and collect funds for making this day memorable. The transportation companies offer special prom limo packages for the convenience of students. They provide budget friendly prom packages that can fit anyoneâ€™s pocket. As the prom is all about pink gowns and tuxedos with pink ties, there are many limo hire companies who offer pink colored limousines especially painted for the promenade hires.

Van hire

Van hire is quite common when it comes to family or group outings. If you are a group of friends or a big family, there are special luxury vans provided by many of the transportation firms. These vans usually have a seating capacity of up to 14 passengers. The Ford E-350 van is known as one of the most luxury vans around the world. It is considered as an ultimate choice for corporate events, weddings, airport group transfers and family gatherings or outings.

Bus hire

Limousine buses are the most luxurious means of enjoying trip with colleagues or friends. They are highly comfortable and convenient buses especially designed with the amenities which include large flat screen TV, CD/DVD player, full Hi-fi surround sound system, iPod connectivity, wooden dance floor, temperature control system and high quality air-conditioning, satellite radio and a lot more. The limousine buses come in three different types that include party buses, mini buses and simple passenger buses. They usually have the seating capacity of 24 to 48 passengers depending on the type of limo bus.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/travel-articles/different-types-of-limousine-hire-services.htm - Article Side

Christina Kevin - About Author:
Promenade which is known as the most awaited event for all of the high school students is often celebrated by using a prom limo hire services. Limousine a bus hire are the most luxurious means of enjoying trip with colleagues or friends.

Article Keywords:
Airport car hire, Prom limo hire, Van hire, Bus hire

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!