We all need a break from our mundane lives so that we can leave our anxieties behind. Well, this may come as a clichÃ© to you but this is the fact which cannot be refused. As we are so much engrossed in our tedious work schedules, we somehow tend to display a sign of leniency towards our beloved ones. Just like us, even they strongly feel an urge to hunt for something that will relieve them off their worries for a certain period of time.

There can be a plethora of solutions to this but the most preferred one is taking up a vacation overseas. The Almighty has brilliantly created the planet on which we dwell in and surely, it is full of beguiling hotspots that capture the attention of a lot of ardent travellers. This summer a fabulous destination awaits your arrival and is striving to capture your senses to the fullest.

Well, South America is the continent that is highly preferred by the enthusiastic nomads who are always on a run to hit on something. Take a mesmeric tour to the Brazilian city of Sao Paulo where the fun and excitement never cease. Many grab flights to Sao Paulo to feel the joie de vivre that leaks from every corner of the city. It is regarded as the largest city in Brazil and indisputably, it is the seventh largest metropolitan city in the world. Often referred to as â€œSampaâ€•, it is biggest financial center of Brazil. The city has witnessed the evolution which as a result has paved the right track for the city for being home to some of the foreign conglomerates to establish their roots on its soil.

You just cannot afford to exclude the Brazilian city from your itinerary because if you do, you would be missing something extraordinary. You can book cheap flights to Sao Paulo for some lip-smacking Spanish and Portuguese cuisines. Make your way to a number of bars, restaurants, cafes and nightspots in the city.

There is so much to be discovered in the city that you would not be able to get enough of every attraction you have a close encounter with. For instance, you can head to Museu de Arte Sao Paulo, which is the largest museum and proudly boasts of its Western Art depicted with a number of paintings and sculptures.

Are you among those who have a deep fascination for shopping? If yes, then Sao Paulo is definitely the place to be. Grab a golden opportunity to spoil yourself in a wide array of goods such as arts and crafts, clothing, antiques, handlooms, jewellery, bookstores and the list is never-ending.
