Kerala, Godâ€™s own country, is truly a state that abounds with natural beauty. It is one of the most beautiful South Indian states with the ability to make your Kerala holidays exciting and rejuvenating. You can visit Kerala for various purposes; for a quiet family holiday, for getting Ayurvedic treatments or for your honeymoon on the palm fringed beaches. Among all, Kerala backwater tours are the most sought after tour packages by both national and international tourists.

Best Time to Travel to Kerala:

Each season in Kerala has its own charm. The land offers variety of unique things to tourists and so has become an all season destination. The weather in Kerala is pleasant and enjoyable, though the state is known for its heavy monsoons. August to March is generally considered a good time to travel to Kerala. However, those who want to enjoy the Ayurvedic treatments that Kerala is famous for, can head to the state even during the monsoon season. November to March is the winter period in Kerala and the weather during this season is very pleasant and comfortable. March to May is the season for summer when it gets hot and humid, but it is also the best time to choose Keralaâ€™s hill stations such as Munnar and Thekkady. You can seek the assistance of a reputed travel operator to design a suitable package tour to Kerala that meets your requirements.

Places to Visit in Kerala:

Kerala is a beautiful state that offers an interesting mix of tourist activities. Beach activities, spa treatments, adventure on backwaters are just some of the activities you can indulge in. Following are some of the places you should see when you travel to Kerala â€¢ Thiruvanathapuram

â€¢ Kottayam

â€¢ Konni

â€¢ Kochi also known as Cochin

â€¢ Kumarakom

â€¢ Munnar

â€¢ Alappuzah
