Getting the Perfect Laptop Backpack by Matt Smith

Article published on June 15th 2012 | Travel

If you are a first time buyer, shopping for a laptop backpack may not necessarily be a big issue. All you have to do is find a familiar brand and choose a backpack that suits your style. While this might be a hassle-free way of getting a laptop backpack, it is not always the best.

Here are some of the factors that you need to consider when buying a backpack for your laptop.

1.Look at the laptopâ€™s sleeve size

A laptop backpack is named so because of its special sleeve or compartment that provides extra protection to the computer. Ensure that this sleeve is large enough to fit your laptop. Most notebooks range from 13â€• to 17â€• while the standard sleeve usually fits a 15â€• laptop.

2.Look at the material used for making the bag

Laptop backpacks are designed specifically for laptops and the basic peripherals that you carry with it, like the charger, an additional battery and perhaps a mouse. Some backpacks come with compartments that you can use to store personal effects like your camera and an mp3 player. Thus, whether you are the type of person that travels a lot or just need to carry a lot of stuff, then you might want to get a laptop backpack that will accommodate all your needs.

3.Pick the right fit

Most folks do not realize the importance of choosing the right backpack that fits well on their backs, and end up with sore shoulders from carrying the backpack. While doing your shopping, choose a backpack that not only looks nice, but is also comfortable to wear. Just like you would your shoes or clothes, be sure to choose a laptop backpack that fits your back and shoulder well.

4.The style

After considering the functional features of the bag, look for the style. Laptop backpacks come in different colours and designs. Choose the one that has appropriate style and color for your need.

5.Finally, read the reviews!

Wherever you want to shop online or visit a local store, be sure to do your research by reading product reviews before paying for it. These reviews will give you a heads up about the backpack. In addition, with a reputable online vendor such as www.luggagedirect.com.au, youâ€™ll get full manufacturer warranty, an easy return policy and authentic brand names, so thereâ€™s little to no risk of ordering online.

There are several attractive laptop backpacks available in the market, with each design created to satisfy a specific need. Be sure to shop around for the right laptop bag that will suit your personality and daily needs.
