Richmond, South West London, is situated in the London Borough of Richmond upon Thames. The London Underground network on the District line runs all the way to Richmond, making the area very commutable to and from London. Richmond also has a bustling National Rail and London Overground station. Here you can find connections to and from the City of London as well suburban Greater London destinations. There are also bus routes situated outside the station that run from Richmond to nearby Kew, Barnes and into the city. Upon a visit to the area, many people prefer to take a Richmond taxi in TW10 to get around. Journeying to your chosen destinations by taxi allows for a more direct, hassle free commute, often preferred by residents and visitors.

Travelling to the area by train? Take a walk out of the station and you will immediately stumble upon the centre of this small town. Here you will find a number of shops, bars, restaurants and cafes. If you are looking to browse the January sales (whatâ€™s left of them), then there is a great mix of high street, boutique and larger more expensive retailers. Richmond is known for being an affluent area, so a shopping trip here may cost a bob or two. When youâ€™ve shopped till youâ€™ve almost dropped, why not jump in a taxi from Richmond? Take the weight off your feet, and the load of bags off your arms and journey home in the comfort of a cab.

If you are looking to experience the leisure attractions that Richmond has to offer then look no further than Richmond Theatre. If you are a lover of the theatre and arts, then Richmond Theatre has over 40 theatrical productions a year for you to enjoy. Productions vary from ballets, operas and plays to musicals, orchestras and comedy gigs. An evening of theatrical entertainment, a gin and tonic and ice cream at the interval is sure to be very enjoyable. However, if you are looking to experience more of the outdoors then why not hop in a Richmond taxi and visit Kew Gardens. Situated a little too far to walk, the gardens are located about an eleven minute drive from Richmond town. These Royal Botanical Gardens are steeped with history, dating back 250 years. If you have a penchant for the outdoors then you will enjoy exploring the glasshouses, landscapes and beautiful gardens. Horticultural brilliance doesnâ€™t get more impressive than this.
