Siena is one of the Italyâ€™s most enchanting cities. Itâ€™s medieval centre bristles with majestic buildin
Its profusion of churches and small museums harbor a wealth of artwork. While traveling Siena, your day will be filled by simply wanderin the snarled lanes of this UNESCO world heritage site.

How you can reach Siena- is an important question and we have tried to answer it here:

By air

Sienaâ€™s Amapugnano airport is located just Nine kilometers from the city. Currently there are no scheduled air services to Siena. Shuttle services are currently available between airport at Piazza Gramsci.

By train

From the north trains go on hourly basis directly from Florence. One can even have train to Empoli and from there trains run to Siena after every thirty to sixty minutes. In south direct connection to Siena depars from chiusi or Grosseto. The train station is just 2 km from Sienaâ€™s historical. Buses numbers 3, 8, 10, 17, 77 leave from the station to Piazza del Sale and bus no. 17 departs from Piazza del Sale for the train station. And if you donâ€™t mind walking, its just about 20-30 minutes walking.

By bus

By far this is the easiest way to get to the city. Eventually in an hour and twenty minutes the bus would drop you at Piazza Garibaldi which is located well within the walls of city. There is an underground bus depot to the west of Santa Maria Novella train station. The estimated cost for the tickets is going to be about â‚¬7.10. Buses also run from Rome and other parts of city.

By car

Well if you donâ€™t want any of those public transportations and prefer to drive of your own, there are several car rental options available. If you have your own car its well and good and if you are renting some car, its again a great option since you will be traveling through the beautiful picturesque of Italy.

Well the driveway to Siena is like this. From north, take the Chiantigiana from Florence. That elegantly crosses the hills of Chianti. From south Siena can be reached by taking autoway from Rome taking right on state highway number 326. .
