Groombridge is a village in the East Sussex County of England. The village is a house to more than 1600 people. The village of Groombridge is divided into two parts, the New Groombridge and the Old Groombridge. The New Groombridge lies in Withyham which is a civil parish in Wealden District whereas the Old Groombridge lies across the boundary of East Sussex County. The Old Groombridge is the smaller area of village and falls under the Tunbridge Wells Borough of Kent County. The nearest town to the village of Groombridge is Royal Tunbridge Wells which is at a travel distance of 7.2 kilometers. Ground transportation facilities in Groombridge include Groombridge car hire, taxi hire, van hire, bus hire and train services.

The village of Groombridge has its own rail station. The Groombridge Railway Station is located on the Spa Valley Railway (SVR) in Groombridge, East Sussex. The building of Groombridge Railway Station is situated on the East of Station Road. It is a beautiful and classic style building made of red bricks with strings of blue and white bricks. The British Rail and Spa Valley Railway are the two companies providing rail services at the Groombridge Railway Station. Aside from trains, people who wish to travel in Groombridge to and from London or other major cities of the country need to get to the Tunbridge Wells via train or private car hire to further proceed towards their destination.

Aside from transportation facilities, the village has all the basic necessities of life to offer its residents. The New Groombridge houses a primary school. It has a general store, bakery, barber, post office, car dealers, real estate agency and other basic amenities of life. A public house named as Crown Inn is also located in the Groombridge. The village is a popular attraction for tourists due to its 700 years old history dating back in 1239. The Groombridge Place is the major tourist attraction of the village which is owned by some of Kentâ€™s distinguished people. In the northwest of Groombridge is a Christian hospital named Burrswood. The hospital offers palliative and respite care, counseling, hydrotherapy, physiotherapy post-surgical care and rehabilitation.
