Located in the Wealden district of the County of East Sussex, Blackham is a small village and a civil parish. The village is situated in the border of Sussex and Kent Counties. The nearest town to the village of Blackham is Royal Tunbridge Wells which is at a distance of approximately 8 kilometers from Blackham. The village features simple living and all the basic necessities of life are available at Blackham. Going back in the near past, the transportation facilities in Blackham were not abundant however CrossCab, a privately owned company started Blackham private car hire services in order to cope with the emerging needs of the local villagers.

Blackham cab reservation facilities provided by CrossCab are available both locally as well as online over the internet. The village does not have its own train services however the villagers travel to nearby towns in order to avail train facilities. Aside from ground transportation, the village consists of Blackham village hall which is a registered charity. The purpose of the Blackham village hall is to promote and maintain the village hall for the entertainment, recreation and benefit of the community. The Blackham village hall is used by the villagers of Blackham for a wide number of activities such as a monthly local produce market.

Aside from the monthly local produce market, there is also a selection of cultural and social events that are held at Blackham village hall. These events include amateur dramatics, professional touring theatre, village parties and a lot more. The Blackham village hall is also available for hire with special rates for local people. The roofing of the Blackham village hall is made of artificial tiles. The main hall has a stage, storage area, kitchen, ante room, lobby and toilet facilities. The Blackham village hall was inaugurated in 1926 and was completely renovated in 2001 according to the latest modern designs. It was renovated internally as well as externally by the villagers of Blackham. For the international tourists, Blackham airport transfers are easily accessible and are available 24 hours a day.

The accommodation in the village of Blackham is cheap and good. The hotels and guest houses offer rooms at unbelievably low prices as compared to any other villages nearby. It is a best place for spending a day or a week away from the hustle and bustle of hectic city life. The village is peaceful and serene. It is lush green and well maintained by the local government. CrossCab being one of the leading local and offline taxi booking companies provide exquisite taxi services in Blackham to and from Heathrow, London City, Gatwick, Stansted, Luton and all other major airports and cities across the country. They have a virtual fleet of more than thousands of vehicles that are serving nationwide. Their prices are the cheapest and most lucrative in the county of Berkshire.
