The city of Manila being the cosmopolitan capital of Philippines consists of many landmarks that are worth visiting. The services of flights to Manila carry many tourists who visit famous landmarks such as Baywalk, Bonifacio Shrine, Chinatown, Coconut Palace, Intramuros, Mabini Shrine, MalacaÃ±ang Palace, Manila Hotel, University of Santo Tomas, Manila Metropolitan Theater, Manila Central Post Office etc. These destinations are worth visiting using flight to Manila services as they portray the historical and cultural heritage of the city.

The Baywalk is a linear park located to the south of the Luneta and adjacent to Manila Bay. One can from here enjoy the majestic view of the setting sun behind the Bay. It consists of many restaurants where tourists of cheap flights to Manila can enjoy tasty, spicy and appetizing cuisines. The Bonifacio Shrine is a tribute to Andres Bonifacio, a freedom fighter who had fought against the Spanish colonists. Travelers using cheapest flights to Manila services visit this shrine in large numbers to pay homage to the national leader.

Chinatown is a place where one can experience the influence of Chinese culture in Philippine society. Customers of cheap Manila flights can buy exotic Chinese goods and taste delicious cuisines here. It is one of the largest Chinatowns in the world. The Coconut Palace was built in 1981 by First Lady Imelda Marcos for Pope John Paul II's visit. Its interiors are not open for the public but the tourists of Manila cheap flights can still view its exteriors from various sides. At present it is the official residence of the Vice President of Philippines.

The Intramuros is an old walled city belonging to the Spanish era. It consists of numerous historical tourist destinations such as museums, ruins, and churches. Many history enthusiasts and religious devotees book cheap tickets to Manila to visit this destination as it is home to the Manila Cathedral, a very famous church of Philippines. The Mabini Shrine was formerly the home of Apolinario Mabini a lawyer who had fought for Philippine Independence. Cheap flights for Manila provide convenient traveling options to this destination which is also credited of being the first intellectual headquarters of the Philippine Republic during the American Occupation.

The MalacaÃ±ang Palace is Philippines Presidentâ€™s official residence surrounded by beautiful gardens. Tourists using direct flights to Manila services can enjoy here natureâ€™s beauty from close quarters. The Manila Hotel has historic significance as it was the home of General Douglas MacArthur before World War II and thus a legacy of the American colonial era. Flights to Manila from London travel services are availed by many British students who visit the University of Santo Tomas, the oldest University in the whole of Asia. Manila flights also carry tourists to other destinations such as Manila Metropolitan Theater, Manila Central Post Office etc.
