People come here from all over the world. If Indians couldn't be there for some reason it is really bad. We are talking about Nainital, which has been once the summer capital of Uttaranchal, situated at 1938 metres in the Kumaon Hill. The place has got its name from the peaceful Naini Lake or Tal. Nainital travel and tourism has maintained an official website to guide to this paradise in its own way. Salubrious is not just a word alone when we use it in the context of Nainital. This place seems to be oozing of healthy environment. People recommend others to come here having gained health for themselves. Nainital tourism can give you the most memorable holidays.

People interested in boating can easily make their way to the Nainital Boat Club as they must already know by Nainital tourism. Its wooden clubhouse still adorns the edge of the lake becoming the stylish centre of attraction. Interesting walking and trekking areas through the forests can give you an exclusive chance to capture the divine views of the Himalaya. The two main markets of Nainital are quite a buzz. With the name Tallital and Mallital, are at either end of the lake sound more like twin brothers in vibrancy. Nainital travel and tourism ensures you get a glimpse of this place thoroughly.

According to Hindu mythology, Nainital is the place where eyes of Sati fell making the place holy. The popular Naina Devi Temple is by the northern end of the lake is symbolic of that religious story. But this is not alone as St John's Church also stands to welcome people of every religious sentiment. Nainital tourism is still not only about religion. It is also about Snow View reached by a ropeway at 2270 meters to capture unimaginable natural beauty. Boards and their cautions may scare you but there is no harm in being prepared while you are on journeys like Nainital travel.

Being a hill station make Nainital a natural trekking spot providing exercise to the fun-lazed bones and scenes of nature in magnificence. Naini Peak (China Peak) is the highest point in the area (2610 meters) reached either from Snow View or from Mallital, along with Dorothy's Seat (2292 meters), Laria Kanta (2480 metres), Deopatta (2435 metres). Trekking can't be cut out of Nainital tourism.

Hanumangarh is another place to get panoramic photographs or memories of sunsets over the plains, from Hanuman temple. Nainital travel is ready to fill you with joy!
