Pattaya Hotels â€“ Options Abound by Johnnymorre

Article published on January 5th 2012 | Travel

If you are coming to Pattaya on vacation, Pattaya hotels will not disappoint. There is a wide range of options from luxury beachfront resorts to budget inns in the entertainment districts. Based on your budget and the area that you want to stay, you will find hotels to suit your needs.

The most sought after Pattaya hotels are the ones along the coastline as this is where most of the cityâ€™s attractions are located. There are several luxury hotels located along the Pattaya Beach, which are popular because of easy access to the beach as well as the nightlife of walking street and the modern malls along the beach road. Among the luxurious Pattaya hotels located along the main beach road are chains such as Holiday Inn, Amari Orchid, Dusit Thani and Siam Bay View Hotel. Although these hotels are the most expensive ones in Pattaya, they are well worth the price due to their prime location by the seaside and the excellent facilities.

If you are looking for Pattaya hotels that are quieter and more relaxing, you can opt to stay at a resort on the less crowded beaches such as Jomtien, Wongamat or Naklua. There are several four star and three star hotels located here that are slightly lower priced than those on Pattaya Beach. In addition, they offer better views of the sea as the area is less developed.

The red light district is another popular attraction in the city and fortunately for budget travellers, there are hundreds of Pattaya hotels and inns located off these streets that are convenient. If you are on a shoestring budget and are not too bothered by small rooms and run down facilities, the options are plenty. However, there are also some budget Pattaya hotels that are gems and offer you a tiny luxury such as a swimming pool and television in the rooms. You will find these slightly set back from the main nightlife areas. Pattaya 2nd road, Pattaya 3rd road and beach road have some good options that you can find if you look at traveller review on the internet. These Pattaya hotels are, however, extremely popular, so you will need to book several months in advance.

Then there are the small hotels located in the heart of the red light districts. These Pattaya hotels are best known for their night-time activities as tourists often head here with the girls whom they pay bar fines for. The busy activity means that the rooms are extremely basic and with low hygiene standards, possibly because there is no time to spruce them up. After all, you are in Thailandâ€™s sex capital.

Whether you need to stay at Pattaya hotels for a relaxing vacation or need a room for the night, you will find several options to choose from. While comparing the facilities can be a good way of deciding which luxury hotel to stay at, for the budget options, you can look at hygiene and online traveller reviews. Donâ€™t worry, even if you donâ€™t have the time to book ahead, Pattaya has enough rooms to cater to your requirements.
