Rejuvenate Yourself in the Beaches and Resorts of Koh Lipe by Phuket Thailand

Article published on August 24th 2012 | Travel

Koh Lipe in Thailand is to the south of the country bordering Malaysia. Located in the province of Satun, the island belongs to the "Tarutao National Marine Park"™ which is a group of more than 70 islands. The island is so small that you can walk the whole stretch in an hour or so. Pattaya, Karma, Sunrise and Sunset are the four major beaches that are linked by footpaths.

Koh Lipe Beaches

Pattaya is the main beach of this island which is a protected bay with powdery sand and clear azure sea water. You can find a variety of accommodation close to the beach in Koh Lipe. Recently, with the rise of more international tourists, big up-market resorts have sprung up. "Walking Street"™ has numerous restaurants and bars to chill out. The "Hat Chao Ley"™ or Sunrise Beach has pristine white sand that beckons beach lovers. Several high-end resorts together with inexpensive lodging are available; they are all spread out unlike Pattaya beach. To the north of Koh Lipe is the Karma beach which is often ignored by tourists in spite of the immaculate beach, splendid views and snorkeling facilities.

Water Sports in Koh Lipe

Koh Lipe in Thailand is visited by international tourists mainly because diving and snorkeling facilities are available here. The reefs are superb and were unharmed by the tsunami of 2004. Several diving stores offer courses in scuba diving and also two-dive boating trips. Snorkeling boat-trips can be booked without difficulty; alternatively, you can hire a snorkel and a mask from the stores. You can clearly see the beautiful marine life, healthy corals and reefs in shallow waters too. Exquisite sceneries can be seen in these locations. Kayaking is another water sport in Koh Lipe that you will enjoy. Marine life can be observed from your own canoe. Kayaking trips can be organized around the shore or else adventurous trips to the neighboring island beaches are another option.

Other Attractions in Koh Lipe

Do not be under the impression that your holiday in Koh Lipe in Thailand will only be around the beaches. There are quite a few exciting spots where you can party. "Bila Beach Bar and Bistro"™ is one such place which is on a secluded beach near the tropical jungle. You can chill-out here with a refreshing cocktail and view the majestic sunset. The menu depends on the fishermen's™ catch; delectable Thai cuisine with fresh ingredients from the island can be relished. "Serendipity Beach Resort"™ is an awesome resort with splendid ocean and neighboring island views. This opulent boutique resort offers a rejuvenating, yet fun-filled holiday in the midst of nature.
