Article published on January 23rd 2012 | Travel

There are many activities that are recommended for a visitor to Dubai. From the shopping of course where apart from state of the art malls where every conceivable branded product is available to the narrow lanes in the local markets called souks that are filled with treasure typical of the Middle East like spices, dry fruits, local artifacts etc. This is an experience in itself. The fact that Dubai is also among the safest cities in the world to visit adds to its charm. No visitor to Dubai must leave without a trip on the calm waters of the seas that surround Dubai.

There are many options for such cruises. There are local boats called the Dhows are used to ferry people around the coast of Dubai in the evenings and a dinner cruise in Dubai is a great way to end your trip before you leave for home. A dinner cruise in Dubai on a local handmade wooden boat is a great way to experience some of the local culture. A dinner cruise in Dubai usually lasts for about 2 hours and starts well after sunset. This gives you enough time to relax and admire the lights on the coastline. You could join a group of tourists on a dinner cruise in Dubai or book an entire dhow for your friends and family.

The meal will be typical of the Arabic cuisine and will have all the specialties that are famous locally. These dinners are usually eaten sitting down and if you like then Hookahs are also provided. There are local musicians on board that will play Arabic tunes and a belly dancer can also be arranged to give the whole evening an even more authentic feel. While these dinner cruises on a dhow are not very expensive you can have the option of a luxury dinner cruise by booking or chartering a boat or yacht for yourself. There are many agencies that are very reliable and can arrange for a luxury dinner cruise if you are not n a budget in Dubai. These agencies will also take care of all the requirements for a local meal or will cater according to your taste.

Done miss the chance for a luxury dinner cruise in Dubai, it is a must have experience.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/travel-articles/see-dubai-at-night-with-a-dinner-cruise-in-dubai.htm - Article Side

Steve Jobs - About Author:
Steve Jobs is a professional writer who loves cruising. He has more than 7 years of experience of writing reviews about a Dinner Cruise and a Dinner Cruise Dubai. Also provides other information regarding Dhow Cruise Dubai.

Article Keywords:
Dinner Cruise Dubai, Dinner Cruise, Modern Dinner Cruise Dubai

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!