Monte de Quinta is a major golf area in Algarve in Portugal, where you can enjoy relaxing walks on the beach, exquisite scenery and wonderfully warm weather.

If youâ€™re planning a holiday in the near future, taking advantage of the sunshine, beautiful beaches, picturesque coastlines and outstanding restaurants in Portugal is the ideal way to relax and let your batteries recharge.

Itâ€™s a short trip from the UK and has become a firm favourite with British tourists over the past years, the men can golf while the women and children can lie by the pool, be pampered at the nearby spa or spend a day of retail therapy at the many shops around the area.

When I go on holiday, the aim is to relax and I must say that Monte de Quinta offers me that with townhouses or suites to choose from that are comfortable with all the amenities I need for the holiday. The fantastic pools and games rooms keep us entertained when weâ€™re not out shopping, enjoying the beaches in the sunshine or golfing at one of the golf courses nearby.

Ideal Holidays in Sunshine with Clear Blue Water

My ideal holiday is sunshine, clear blue water and sparkling beaches, thatâ€™s probably because I live here in the UK where it always seems to be wet, grey and just plain miserable. A week or even a few days of sunshine gets me feeling healthy and happy. I donâ€™t know what it is about the sun, but everyone is happier when the sun shines, itâ€™s like a dark cloud has been lifted from our shoulders, so spending a short break or a week at Monte De Quinta is the solution for me.

Start the morning with a leisurely walk around the shops and a stroll along the beach, followed by a lazy afternoon by the pool or a wonderful spa treatment at one of the spas and then on to a delicious meal at one of the many superb restaurants is the ideal holiday for most people. A place to unwind, relax, enjoy the sun and put their feet up.

Affordable Travel

Travelling to Portugal from the UK is affordable, itâ€™s a short flight that doesnâ€™t leave you exhausted the time you arrive, this means you are ready to start enjoying all the fun, golf and sun the area has to offer from the minute your feet touch the ground.

Monte de Quinta has superior accommodation available, guaranteed to make your stay enjoyable and is within easy access of the known golf courses, shops, beaches and stretches of magnificent coastlines. Whether you choose a townhouse or suite, you will not be disappointed with the light and airy comfort and superior amenities the resort has to offer.
