The economic downturn around the world has made it more important than ever to find affordable lodging no matter where you may plan to visit. Budget hotels London are available, if you know where to find them and book your stay in advance. You might think it is impossible to stay in the heart of the city for a low rate, but there are many good budget hotels in London that offer consistent value for your money.

Lower Priced London Hotels Close to Buckingham Palace

A stay close to Buckingham Palace in most cases is expensive, but you may be surprised to know there are options for cheap hotels London that allow you to spend the night for a fraction of what other hotels charge.

You may never have heard of places like the Elizabeth House Hotel London and the Georgian House, but you will be glad to know about them when you check out the cost of a nightly stay at either hotel. Both hotels are easily accessible from Victoria Station, which makes them convenient for you to travel wherever you want to go.

Budget Hotels London Near Earl's Court Exhibition Centre

Other budget hotels in London that might interest you can be found near the Earl's Court Exhibition Centre. Two names to remember there are the Lord Kensington Hotel and the Lord Jim Hotel. Many of the competitively priced hotels in London have historical significance along with their low prices.

Located only two minutes by foot from Earl's Court Station, you will find the Henley House Hotel. It is a great value and very popular with frequent travelers. The well-equipped rooms present a comfortable repose, and some have overviews of gardens. Breakfast is served in the conservatory.

The Arosfa Hotel

The Arosfa Hotel was one of the homes of Sir John Everett Millais, an English illustrator and painter who lived in the 19th century and was a co-founder of the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood. Breakfast is included with your stay and the 15-room hotel has a garden and a sitting room. Location for this low-cost hotel London is another reason for choosing the Arosfa because it is near to The British Museum, Oxford Street shops, and Euston Station.

Hotel 55

Another great value London hotel is Hotel 55. This is a stylish inn located on a busy road about twenty minutes from the West End by way of the Tube. The colors are very neutral and Indian art is a prominent feature. Sleep on high-quality Egyptian cotton sheets in the well-kept rooms. Modern technologies availbale here include Wi-Fi, air-conditioning and plasma televisions.

This is a mere sampling of the economical hotels London has to offer. If you plan a visit, be sure to check out your options before choosing a more expensive stay. Remember to book in advance whenever possible.
