Are you travelling to Portugal in a large group? Perhaps you are taking your family for a break or going on holiday with friends. If so it is worth taking a look at the stunning choice of villas in Vale do Lobo. There are many to choose from all varying in size which means you are bound to find the right one for you and the group you are travelling with when you next visit Portugal.

Enjoy the Outdoors in Your Private Villa

One of the benefits of choosing a villa over other types of holiday accommodation includes the extensive outdoor areas which are designated to you and your friends and family only. If you have had bad experiences surrounding hotel pools you will already know the benefits of having your own private pool which can be heated for your pleasure. Often villas also have a combination of many outdoor areas which means it is possible to find some privacy even when sharing with five other couples.

Many of the villas in Vale do Lobo have private grassed areas which are great for children to play on or for sunbathing and lawn games. In addition to the lawn you can find the pool is surrounded by a generous patio for loungers and tables for dining on. If you love barbeques you can enjoy many during your holiday on modern gas BBQâ€™s which are found at many of the villas too. To top it all off there are often stunning balconies for you to enjoy a breakfast taking in the sunrise and the view or creating a romantic meal for two at the end of a long day in the sun.

All the Mod Cons Provided in the Villa

The other great thing about villas in Vale do Lobo are the facilities which come included in the price. You really can feel like you are staying in a home from home thanks to the well fitted out kitchen. Many of the kitchens come with dish washers to reduce the time you need to spend working in the kitchen as well as washing machines and dryers to use whenever you need to. These are very useful especially if you hate returning home with multiple bags of luggage full of dirty clothes.

In the living areas you can find modern television sets which have UK Freeview for your viewing pleasure, although you may find that you are too busy enjoying the weather and local restaurants. Having the option is always preferable especially if you have teenagers to keep amused. If you and your family like to stay in touch with friends and family while on holiday you may also be pleased to hear that many of the villas come with free Wi-Fi.
