Spain is a tourist's dream destination. It is a country filled with heritage, culture, natural and man-made wonders as well as superb beaches and scenic landscapes. Spain is one of the most beautiful countries around the whole world. A one week trip here allows you to enjoy and see all that this country alone has to offer. It has everything in it: from museums and monuments to sports and a dazzling nightlife.

Sagrada Familia is one of the most visited places in Paris. Even the busiest of people find time to stop and pay a visit to this place. Also, it can be considered the symbol of Spain.

Sagrada Familia is a big church, which can be found in the city of Barcelona. It is a great place for the visitors and this monument attracts thousands of people every year. The church has a great architecture and it is considered the most beautiful symbol by the world. The gothic style gives it a little bit of mystery but also a wonderful view. If you visit Spain, we can say that is a "must" to go and see the most wonderful and glorious church in the country. Every person who wants to see something new, interesting, with a great history, must visit and take a picture in front of the Sagrada Familia. This can be a great experience for everyone, no matter what religion they belong to or how old they are. The church is very impressive and the view is really amazing. In addition to this, in front of it you can find a lot of shops where you can buy little things, like pictures, bracelets, candies or other sweets.

The big metropolitan area of Madrid was constructed in the time of Muslim ruler Amir Mohammad I during 9th century and the construction was started with the Fortress building along with the left side of river Manzanares. This fortress became the reason of dispute among the Arabs and Christians until the place was occupied by Alonso VI during the eleventh century. A protective wall was constructed at the end of 17th century around the areas of Valencia, Segovia and Toledo. In the eighteenth century, the famous places like Pasea las Acacias and Paseo del Prado were designed under the regime of Carlos III.

Thus, a trip to Spain is one of a lifetime's experiences. It offers you all sorts of activities in just one place. It is a highly planned and comfortable city with friendly people making your trip an overall enjoyable affair. You easily make new friends here and the food here is divine. Spain is however a huge country and it has many cities that offer something different and unique to the visitors. In order to truly appreciate the country of Spain one must take a long trip around the country spanning for almost a month.

Hence, if you are planning to go somewhere soon, then Spain and Sagrada Familia is definitely the place to be.
