Article Side

The Ultimate Mountaineering Expedition

by Rahul Ranjan

Article published on December 5th 2011 | Travel

To explore the unexplored creations of god is a different experience altogether. There is no better way to explore the mighty mountain ranges of India than Trekking in India. One of the leading adventure sports in India, trekking is a fun filled activity that has your adrenaline rushing even at the coolest of the temperature. In India, in the Himalayas alone there are numerous possibilities of skiing, trekking and river rafting. The garhwal, karakoram(k2) and the Kumaon regions are some of the best in India. The musical sound of the flowing river, pristine snow covered mountains and lush green valleys, doubles the excitement of the trekkers. Trekking enthusiasts have all the pleasure of delving into the ruggedly handsome mountain ranges, and loose themselves in the perfect harmony of nature. There are several trekking tours in the Kumaon, Garhwal, ladakh ranges. The roopkund trek, Indrahar pass trek and the Markha valley trek are some of the popular trekking ranges in India.

India being a country of surprises in blessed with myriad forms of terrains within its boundaries. From plains to plateau, from mountains and hills to deserts, India is a land of variety. Such variety facilitates different tourism options and adventure sports. Due to the presence of the magnificent Himalayas, trekking is a favorite option in India. Trekking in India takes place in several places like Kulu Bara Bangal trekking, Valley of flowers, Roopkund trekking, Dhauladhar trekking, Nukun Zanskar trekking, Padum Zanskar trekking, Pokhra Annapurna trekking, Lahaul valley trekking, Saurkundi pass, Milam glacier and many more. Majority of the trekking ranges exist in the Himalayas, making the Himalayan foothills a favorite trekking destination. It attracts several geologist, nature lovers and trekkers every year. Trekking in India has Rafting tour, jeep safari tour, motorbike tour and other different cultural tours.

The beautiful Markha valley is located along the Markha River, In the Himalayan region. Popularly known as the â€˜little Tibetâ€™ area, it is an ideal place for trekking. With the panoramic view of the great Himalayas it is one of the most populated areas in the region. The region has two high passes, elevated to 17400m, that one can cross while trekking, the beautiful stretches of wild roses, willow groves and the beautiful canyon is a sight that will remain etched in your memory forever. While trekking here one can also meet the nomadic families and pay a visit to the tiny monasteries built in the tranquility of nature. Thus Markha Valley Trek is an ultimate adventure expedition.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/travel-articles/the-ultimate-mountaineering-expedition.htm - Article Side

Rahul Ranjan - About Author:
Indiantrekking.com provides you complete information about trekking in india, has different tour packages for Indian trekking like a Garhwal Trekking, Sikkim trekking and a himachal trekking.

Article Keywords:
markha valley trek, trekking in india, indian trekking tour, himachal trekking

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!