Bangkok, the fast paced capital city of Thailand, may not be your first choice if you are planning your honeymoon trip, however this metropolis beauty does have many interesting things to enjoy and attractions that make your honeymoon memories remember forever. There are many interesting places in the city that flatter you with their charm. It is not wrong to say that Bangkok is one of the best honeymoon destinations in the world. If you are thinking to visit this cosmopolitan beauty then there are direct flights to Bangkok as well as cheap flights to Bangkok. Choose as per your budget and preference.

Bangkok, popularly known as the "Land of Smiles", is worldwide famous for its high-rise buildings, naughty nightlife and bustling crowd. But donâ€™t mislead yourself with this impression as the other side of the story gives you various reasons to celebrate your honeymoon trip in the city. Bangkok is not just the capital city of Thailand but is also the cultural hub of the country. The most visited and significant cultural symbols such as the Grand Palace, the Wat Arun and Wat Pho are located within the city. Not only these, Bangkok also acts as a perfect gateway to explore several other notable Thai destinations, including Ayuthaya historical Park- a UNESCO Word Heritage Site. Bangkok, the dazzling metropolis, is a hub of hotels, ranging from world-renowned luxury hotels and resorts to budget properties. Whatever abode you choose one thing that is assured is excellent guest service and Thai hospitality for what Thailand is well-known. The city also has a wide range of romantic hotels and resorts that are especially designed for honeymooners. What is more impressive than a spa treatment? Give your beloved a surprise gift of authentic Thai massage, one of the best spa therapies in the world, and make your trip more loving and pleasurable. Shopping and nightlife are two other important gems that play significant part in making Bangkok one of the best honeymoon destinations in the world. Stroll around the city and you will know why this Thai city is a hit on every shopperâ€™s list. World-class shopping malls, glowing night markets, bustling streets and the special â€œfloating marketâ€• with huge choices of goods are simply irresistible.

Similar is the nightlife of Bangkok. With hundreds of choices available from bars to pubs to discotheques and nightclubs, the after dark life in the city is the most vibrant thing that you must experience. If nothing among these attractions excite you much then also this Thai beauty succeeds in winning both your heart and admiration by its exotic "Thai cuisine". Bangkok houses plethora of restaurants and cafes that serve a wide range of both international and Thai dishes. Don't forget to experience the lip-smacking Thai street food. To meet the increasing demands of travelers, direct flights to Bangkok are operating now from all corners of the world. There are cheap flights to Bangkok too that provide both excellent service and money value.
